EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

Claim 3, line 8: "continuing" has been changed to --containing--.

The following changes to the drawings have been approved by the examiner: blank "page 24 of 24" from the drawings (last page of the drawings cannot be blank) must be deleted. In order to avoid abandonment of the application, applicant must make these above agreed upon drawing changes.

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art fails to teach a rod comprising adsorbent cylinders, wherein the rod and adsorbent cylinders are capable of being inserted into a test tube. Hubscher et al. teach small adsorbent cylinders on a rod and connected to a support but the adsorbent cylinders taught by Hubscher et al. extend from the rod at a distance that would render the rod incapable of being inserted into a test tube. The cylinders of Hubscher et al. extend from the rod at a distance of 3.375 inches (col. 7, lines 27-30). One having ordinary skill in the art would recognize that a "large" test tube has a diameter significantly smaller than the distance of the cylinders extending from the rod of Hubscher et al. Kawashima et al. (US 4,025,391) teach a large test tube having a diameter of 5 cm (almost 2 inches) at column 3, lines 33-37. Terasawa et al. (US 4,912,043) teach a large test tube having a diameter of 24 mm (almost 1 inch) at column 5, lines 38-40. The test tube diameters taught by these two references are commonly accepted for "large" test tubes, and therefore the 3.375 inch length cylinders attached to the rod of Hubscher et al. would not be capable of fitting into even a large test tube in the prior art.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to MELANIE YU whose telephone number is (571)272-2933. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 8:30-5.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Long Le can be reached on (571) 272-0823. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
